Welcome to Childcare & Education Expo London 2026!

We’re so excited to welcome you to Childcare & Education Expo London 2026! This year’s event has been designed to give you new ideas, expert advice, and practical tools to inspire and motivate every day.

We’re thrilled to be joined by our special guests, the Early Years Minister, Oliva Bailey MP, Michael Rosen and Andy Cope. For the first time, Ofsted will also be here running free sessions to support you in your work.

New this year, we have the Business Stage, created especially for Early Years leaders, and the VIP Lounge, sponsored by YPO.

Other highlights, all free to attend and packed with learning opportunities, include the Childminder Clinic run by Coram PACEY, the Share & Support Hub, and our interactive workshops.

You can see what’s on in the Event Guide on pages 17–19, and view all speaker programmes on pages 13–16.

If you need any help at the show, come find us at the Childcare & Education Expo Hub.

Thank you for joining us. I hope you leave feeling inspired, informed, and energised.

With warm regards,

Emma Barrett

Welcome to Childcare & Education Expo London 2026

Morton Michel is delighted to be back at this inspiring event and to once again be part of a community of dedicated early years and education professionals all coming together to learn, share and connect.

Welcome to Childcare & Education Expo London 2026. Morton Michel is delighted to be back at this inspiring event and to once again be part of a community of dedicated early years and education professionals all coming together to learn, share and connect.

Over the next two days, you'll have countless opportunities to top up your knowledge, discover new ideas and meet others who understand both the challenges and the rewards of working with children. Whether you join workshops, panels, or seminars, or just explore the exhibition and see new products and services, there's something here for everyone, no matter where you are in your career.

For us, the highlight is always the conversations we have with you – hearing about your realities on the ground, your successes and your pressures, and the ways you continue to make a difference for children and families. Those conversations shape how we support the sector, from our specialist insurance to the wider guidance and resources we provide.

Our “Conversations with the Sector” podcast continues to give voice to those stories, and we're excited to bring it back to Expo with live recordings for Season 2! Visit us on stand C6 to meet our team, share your experiences, and enter our competition for a chance to win a Revive wellness hamper from WellBox – a small way to celebrate the incredible work you do and a reminder that your wellbeing matters just as much. And, look out for Morton Bear, our most popular team member, who will be roaming the halls and always ready for a photo!

From all of us at Morton Michel, we hope you have an inspiring, enjoyable, and energising time at Childcare & Education Expo London.

Warm Regards,

Sue Lee
Partnership Relationship Director – UK

What our members love about the Alliance

When sector news breaks you're always on it straight away. Sometimes I'm worried about what I'm going to do, and you immediately come out with something helpful. I love that all the training is so easy to access as well. I don't know what we'd do without you!

It's so nice to have everything in one place - the Alliance offered free advice about accepting a child with very complex needs into my setting. Then they forwarded my information to their Insurance team who could talk to me about the additional requirements necessary to accept this child. I didn't have to explain everything twice. This made everything a lot simpler.

The amazing support that you offer small charitable preschools like ourselves. You understand our needs better than anyone else.
